Judge Lovell returned yesterday from Globe where he has been for the last ten days attending court. The judge was engaged in the case of Clark vs. the Gila Valley railroad, a heavy damage suit against the railroad for injuries alleged to have been sustained by Clark. The case went over until the next term of court. The judge says that Globe is prosperous and growing. The smelters are running and giving employment to a large number of men and putting a large amount of money in circulation. Speaking of the mining around Globe the judge says that there is a large amount of prospecting going on and a number of splendid properties are being opened up.—Tucson Star.

The Pinal Mountain Water company is sinking a well, 6x10 feet, below the fork of the creek above the Redman slaughter house, and expects to get an abundant supply of water at a depth of about 25 feet. The pump and boiler bought of Winters & Star have been removed to the new well to expedite sinking. The contract has also been let to excavate for a brick and cement reservoir to be constructed on the hill above the tanks now used for water storage. The tanks hold 10,000 gallons of water, while the capacity of the reservoir will be 100,000 gallons. When the new works are completed the company proposes to put in a pump of 100,000 gallons capacity in twelve hours, to deliver the water through a four-inch main into the reservoir, nearly a mile and a half distant from the well. It is expected that the work will be completed in February next, when Globe will have a permanent supply of pure water.

Rev. Whittemore writing to the Florence Tribune from Washington, D. C., says: "We have found a man to formulate the bill to secure an appropriation for the San Carlos dam from this Congress, and he is at work gathering material and will soon have it in readiness for the printer. Some unwise movements have been made and have alarmed the friends of the project, but 'truth is mighty and must prevail,' and any scheme to thwart or hinder the erection of that dam will come to naught. We have secured (for think we have) two of the ablest men in the senate, and when the bill is brought before congress their voices will be heard."

Nothing appeals to the feminine eye any quicker than the wardrobe and millinery worn by the ladies engaged on the stage. Many a weak spot in a performance has been smoothed over by a handsome gown. It is announced by the manager of "Have You Seen Smith" that one of the attractive features in connection with this highly successful farce comedy is the costuming of the ladies. Each and every gown and dress was designed, and the materials selected by a celebrated Parisian modiste, and sent to New York for construction. Some of the ladies make four or five complete changes of costume during the performance. In arranging the dresses for each act, care was taken to blend the colors, and present an even harmony of tone which is in itself very commendable, as nothing jars a sensitive eye any more than a clashing of colors.

Masquerade Costumes.

W. T. W. Curl has arranged with a Los Angeles house for a large assortment of masquerade costumes to be placed for rent at Miss Sander's dress-making parlor, opposite the SILVER BELT office.
